Caution Urged During Holiday Travel

Governor John H. Reed and Col. Robert Marx, State Police chief, today reminded motorists that the coming week end and the 4th of July holiday constitute a critical traffic period. They urged drivers to exercise great care and to do everything possible to prevent motor vehicle crashes.

"Summertime in Maine means vacationtime to an ever-increasing number of people," said Governor Reed. Out-of-state visitors will pour into Vacationland constantly during the next several weeks. Many of them will be traveling on week ends. When a week end precedes a holiday, as is the case in the present instance, heavy traffic throughout the entire period is a certainty.

Urging drivers to accept highway safety as an individual responsibility, Governor Reed continued:

"You and I are the decisive factors in the constant battle to prevent loss of lives on our streets and highways. Our compliance with the law and our observance of the rules of common sense and safety, together with our willingness to accept a bit more than our share of responsibility, can make motor vehicle travel safer for us all. Let us all work together to prevent accidents and to save lives."

Col. Marx promised an all-out effort by State Police during the week end and throughout the holiday, and added:

"We must, of course, expect a heavy concentration of traffic during this period. All of us realize that this calls for increased vigilance, extra caution, and greater forbearance on the part of every driver. These three, plus a liberal amount of patience behind the wheel, combine to provide our best protection against traffic crashes."

BETHEL AREA TEEN COUNCIL

To clear up any questions in the minds of parents, the Bethel Area Teen Council wishes to explain its purpose and inform the parents about what is being done.

The Bethel Junior Chamber of Commerce sponsors and advises the Bethel Area Teen Council, which is a council of five teenagers and an advisor who is appointed by the Jaycees to work with the teenagers providing dances for the teenagers in the Bethel area.

The members are the following: Advisor, John Greenleaf; Chairman, Bonnie Eames; Secretary and Social Director, Julie Brown; Treasurer and Clean-up Chairman, Edward Tibbetts; Refreshment Chairman, Beth Ann Brown; Advertisement Chairman, Dick Jacobs.

The Council feels that the public should be informed on the preparation that went into the first dance on Friday, June 23. With the encouragement of a few interested parents, the Council went ahead with its plans. June 20 a group of teenagers continued on page four —

Read II Timothy 4:1-10
Demas hath forsaken me, having loved this present world. (II Timothy 4:10.)

Writing from prison to the young man Timothy, Paul shows his disappointment and heartbreak because Demas turned his back on the Christian faith. "Having loved this present world," Demas lost the trail and no longer followed Christ. The world presents many alluring faces which could have tempted Demas. Which ones lured him from the faith he shall never know. However, Paul warns Timothy against coming of them—pride, covetousness, thanklessness, a lover of pleasure more than of God.

Have we been like Demas? Having once felt the glow of Christ's spirit, have we been mean, bitter, stingy, slow of compassion?

Having our names on the church roll is not enough. We need so to live that the world may know that the moving force in our lives is the spirit of Christ. May our living Lord not say sadly to us, "Alas, you have forgotten me, having loved this present world."

PRAYER: Our Father God, grant us the gift of constancy in faith. When tempted to seek ease and comfort, arouse us with a new baptism of Thy spirit. When lured by the enticements of this world, may we keep our gaze upon Christ lest we miss the trail leading to Thy kingdom. In our Saviour's name. Amen.

Thought For The Day
The church does its work through those in whom the spirit of Christ is the moving force.

LONG WEEKEND CREATES POTENTIALLY EXPLOSIVE TRAFFIC CONDITIONS

"When the Fourth of July gives us an extra day on a week end at the beginning of the really warm part of the year, we have a potentially explosive traffic condition," stated Arlyn E. Barnard, Chairman of the Maine Highway Safety Committee.

"With added thousands of cars en route to lake and coastal areas, the likelihood of becoming involved in a collision is greatly amplified during this period," he emphasized.

"Even though local and state police will be constantly patrolling Maine's streets and highways, they alone cannot stop the unwary and the immature from dashing themselves into hospitals or eternity," he pointed out.

The Chairman also said that "it is high time each motorist practice a little introspection to determine whether he is both mentally and emotionally equipped to cope with today's complex traffic."

"Until each motorist equates his driving to the varied traffic conditions encountered, we shall experience little improvement in traffic accident prevention," he concluded.

ing been held in August, 1960, in Bethel, the laboratory for college faculty marks another "first" in training of this kind in Bethel. The student leadership teams from the 1960 conference returned to their respective campuses across the nation to continue interaction among themselves and with other students and with college faculty. It is in large part because of their interest and that of many faculty advisors that National Training Laboratories have set up for this summer separate, but concurrent laboratories for students and faculty. Student-faculty collaboration is seen as the essential means for significant learning and change on campus. The two laboratories thus have become a complementary part of the total program with the goal of proving student leadership in campus activities and bringing a closer relationship between teachers and students to improve learning environments.

The student groups are from the following campuses across the country: American University in Washington, D. C.; Antioch College in Yellow Springs, Ohio; Austin College in Sherman, Texas; Baylor University in Waco, Texas; Boston University in Boston, Mass.; Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah; University of California in Davis, Calif.; Carleton College in Northfield, Minn.; City College of New York City; Colgate College in Hamilton, N. Y.; Cornell University in Ithaca, N. Y.; Hunter College in New York City; Indian Univ. in Bloomington, Ind.; Lesley College in Cambridge, Mass.; North Carolina State in Raleigh, N. Y.; University of Delaware in Newark, Del.; University of Michigan in Ann Arbor, Mich.; University of Minnesota in Duluth, Minn.; University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill, N. C.; University of Texas in Austin, Tex.; University of Utah in Salt Lake City, Utah. In addition to this group, there is also one exchange student from Germany and a representative of London University in England who is currently employed with the NTL Central Office in Washington, D. C.
